legislate wisely in the absence of information respecting the conditions of which the legislation intended to affect or change. It shall be responsible in the review and study, on a continuing basis, the application, administration, and execution of provincial and local laws. The oversight primary functions shall ensure executive compliance with legislative intent, improve the efficiency, effectiveness, and economy of provincial operations, evaluate program performance, prevent executive encroachment on legislative prerogatives and powers, investigate alleged instances of poor administration, arbitrary and capricious behavior, abuse, waste, dishonesty, and fraud, assess officials and employees' ability to manage and carry out provincial program objectives and policies, ensure that executive policies reflect the public interest, protect individual rights and liberties; review rule making processes, and, acquire information useful in future policy making and legislation.

10.34 AGRARIAN REFORM – This committee handles all matters relating to the changes of physical characteristics of land rendering agricultural lands not suitable anymore for agricultural land use. This includes formulation of policy and programs and eventual enactment of ordinances and adoption of resolutions regulating the conversion of lands from agricultural land use into non-agricultural land use, consistent with Republic Act No. 6657, as amended, and other existing rules, laws and regulations governing the same.

Section 11. The Committee Composition; Committee Report. - a) Unless otherwise provided by the Sangguniang panlalawigan during the creation or adoption of committees, there shall be a chairman, co-chairman and at least not less than one (1) but not more than three (3) members of a particular committee who shall be elected by the members in session assembled. When the need arises, the composition of the committees herein created may be reorganized, modified, and changed anytime by a majority vote of all the Sangguniang panlalawigan members in a meeting called for the purpose. A co-chairman of the committee may be elected with the same authority and responsibility as that of the chairman and shall preside during committee hearings only in the absence of the chairman or when duly authorized or elected to preside. The committees shall adopt rules and procedures to govern their respective proceedings and shall provide requirements, invite resource speakers, or concern parties in the exercise of their review power. All deliberations of the committee shall be made public except when the committee meets in executive session or when the subject matter involves national security or otherwise declared by them on moral ground. A special committee or a committee of the whole may from time to time, be created for special purpose and only for a limited or specific or fixed period of time.

b) Committee Reporting – Committee reporting is part of the first reading process, either thru referral or direct reporting by the concerned committee and later, through a motion, shall be included in the calendar as unassigned business or it may be considered as urgent with the rules being suspended then proceed to final vote whether to approve or not. Provided, that the three-reading rule is not violated in the case of a proposed ordinance.

c) Motion to Adopt The Report – Must be duly seconded for purposes of discussion and amendment. After adoption, the matter shall be calendared for second reading or it may be considered as urgent with rules being suspended then proceed to final vote whether to approve or not.

There shall be created or designated a Committee Secretary or COMSEC from the Office of the Sangguniang Secretary who shall take records of the proceedings during committee hearings, certify the same and shall prepare the corresponding Committee Reports with proposed amendments when recommended for plenary action. The COMSEC shall serve and act as OSSEC liaison or intermediary personnel, and to facilitate and accommodate all sanggunian concerns by giving guidance and information concerning legislative process and administrative policies.

Section 12. Prior Referral Conference (PRC). - In order to save time and to ensure speedy and proper referrals and action of measures in the calendar of business, and to fast track its proceedings with the end in view of avoiding dilatory strategies, there shall be a prior referral conference to be conducted in an executive session and under the control of the Steering Committee, or the presiding officer, or his duly authorized representative, at any time before the start of every session in order to:

1. Simplify the issues involved;
2. Agree on committee referrals;

JUL 0 1 2023

By:
PROVINCE OF SIBUGAY AUTHENTICATED
OSSEC
Date 7-1-23