(c) Debate and Closure of Members - (1) In the discussion of any measure, a motion to close the debate shall be in order after two speeches for and one against, or after only one speech for has been delivered and none entered against it.

(2) When several members have registered or signified their intention to speak on the matter under consideration and when said matter has been sufficiently and thoroughly discussed by the members speaking, the presiding officer, motu propio, or upon motion of a member, order that a member having the floor shall desist from speaking further so that other members may not be deprived of their opportunity to speak.

Section 37. Five Minute Rule - (a) After the closure of debate, the Sangguniang panlalawigan shall proceed to the consideration of committee amendments. A member who desires to speak for or against an amendment shall only have five (5) minutes to do so. The time limit herein set forth may be extended by a vote of majority, there being a quorum.

(b) The five-minute rule shall also apply in the consideration of an amendment or of an amendment by substitution.

Section 38. Approval of Measure on Second Reading - (a) The steering committee shall prepare copies of the proposed ordinance or resolution in the form it was passed on second reading and shall distribute to each sanggunian member a copy thereof, except that measure certified by the governor as urgent may be submitted for final voting immediately after debate and for amendments during the second reading.

Section 39. Third Reading and Final Voting- A draft ordinance and resolution approved on second reading shall be included in the calendar for third reading and final voting. No ordinance shall be approved unless it has passed three readings, and copies thereof in its final form have been distributed to the members at least a day before its passage, except when the governor or the sanggunian certifies to the necessity of its immediate enactment to meet a public calamity or emergency after complying the three-reading rule. Upon the third reading of a proposed ordinance or resolution, no amendment thereto shall be allowed thereafter, and the yeas and nays or the result of the votes taken, either on secret balloting or nominal voting, entered in the journal. In the absence of a specific decision as to the manner of voting, the yeas and nays shall govern the final voting. In case of doubt as to the result, a division of the house shall be resorted to determine the exact result of the votes taken.

Section 40. Approval of Resolutions - A resolution shall be adopted in the same manner prescribed for the approval of ordinances, except that it need not go through a separate third reading for its final consideration, unless decided otherwise by a majority of all sanggunian members for its passage. A motion unanimously seconded and there being no express objection shall be deemed approved and adopted

Section 41. Majority Requirements - (a) No ordinance passed by the sanggunian shall be valid unless approved by a majority of the members present, there being a quorum. Any ordinance authorizing or directing the payment of money or creating liability, shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the sanggunian members for its passage.

(b) Upon the passage of an ordinance, the Chief of Staff of the Session Secretariat of the Office of the Secretary to the Sanggunian shall record the ayes and nays or the votes, or the action taken thereon. Each approved ordinance shall be stamped with the seal of the sanggunian and recorded in a book kept for the purpose.

Section 42. Approval of Ordinances - (a) Every ordinance passed by the sanggunian shall be presented to the Provincial Governor. If he approves the same, he shall affix his signature on each and every page thereof; otherwise, he shall veto it and return the same with his objections to the sanggunian, which may proceed to reconsider the same. The sanggunian may override the veto of the governor by two-thirds (2/3) vote of all its members, thereby making the ordinance or resolution effective for all legal intents and purposes.

(b) The veto shall be communicated by the governor to the sanggunian within fifteen (15) days from receipt thereof; otherwise, the ordinance shall be deemed approved as if he had signed it.
